

1    ABSTRACT

2            Prilled wax particles are formed from a vegetable wax-3    based composition. After compression, a predominantly 4    paraffin wax-based composition is optionally poured over
5    the vegetable wax-based composition to form an encased 6    candle. The method of the present invention offers the 7    possibility to incorporate a high fragrance load to the 8    candle.
